Realms of Pugmire, Sales Now available in PDF and print from DriveThruRPG: Monarchies of Mau Early Access! Before we were six. Now we are one. We differ on many points, but on those we agree: always trust our instincts, always reward loyalty, and always pounce upon unseen's hem. Without these doctrines, we are no longer worthy of Human worship. - King Trillani Of Persian von Mau, the dead cat who inherited the world, unified their six fragile monarchies after centuries of undold. These cats have been raised to use tools and language, and they seek to rediscover the ruins of Old Ones. Some have learned to use humanity's leftover technology, but they believe it is magic given to them by their lost worshippers. Others seeking to create a cohesive, gender-assuming nation of Mau agreed after years of political sedity. The world is dangerous and mysterious, but the instinct of a good cat will always be true. Monarchies of Mau Early Access is a pre-release, pre-look at the upcoming monarchy mode of Mau roleplaying games. It is an almost complete rule book that allows players to dive right into the world of Mau's Monarchy while the final game is still in development. Some of the highlights of the Fast Access Monarchy include: • A evocative and mysterious setting that is both family friendly and insightful enough to create compelling stories. • A traditional fantasy rule system redesigned to play streamlined and easy-to-create heroic cats, with a focus on cooperation and action against competition and violence. • A variety of calls and homes that allow access to some interesting and interesting secrets. • Rival species to interact with, like dogs and rats, along with scary and dangerous monsters roaming the landscape. WILL YOU TRUST YOUR INSTINCTS? Mau's monarchy is tracking based on our cats to Pugmire, set in the cat monarchy adjacent to the dog kingdom. Also available: Monarchies of Mau Wallpaper! So much to cover, so let's come up with it! MONARCHIES OF MAU KICKSTARTER In case you've missed it, Mau Kickstarter is alive! We funded it in just one hour, which was amazing. At the time I'm writing this, we're over $91,000, and we're still nine days to go! And just like with this Kickstarter, once you come back, you have access to PDF Access early in the first support update. So if you haven't yet backed it, you can go check it out right here: PUGMIRE KICKSTARTER To the printer! I made some last minute proofing with Mike Chaney, we both had some final fixes, and now it really happens! Books, dice, cards, pins and screens are all printed, which will then be shipped to our distribution warehouse. From there, everything will be compiled, and they will start mailing everything out! When Kickstarter launched, we anticipated that we would start shipping in August 2017 and so far we seem to be on track for that day. Fiction Anthology and Pan's Guide Writers are rewriting their stories (in fact, I've finished rewriting my one some time ago). Pan's Guide is still on my desk to look at, unfortunately -- there's a lot going on, and unfortunately that's been delayed longer than I hoped. But I'm planning to dive back into that as soon as I finish writing this update! Earplay and Audio Drama Non-Interactive Audio Films are written, and off for a group to produce. They're sampling me so we can dial in the right voice for the project, and then they'll start creating funny voices in front of the microphone. For Earplay, I listened to the latest batch of files, and sent out the last set of edits. I also worked with Earplay to make an interactive teaser for Pugmire. Think of it like a trailer for a movie, only you can make a few choices as well. It's a short experience, and you'll be able to check it out for yourself very soon! AND MORE As I mentioned last month, I am now deep in the process of moving to Ireland. My wife was there while I was still in Atlanta wrapping up the last thing and getting Prince Murray Pug ready for his Irish adventure. We both get on our respective flights on the 15th, so it's just a few days away! As we wrap up everything for this Kickstarter, the move will mark a good transition to start thinking through everything for Mau's monarchy (and maybe beyond!) RichT here: Just want you to know that the monarchy of Mau Kickstarter is now living here: Join us for more fun in the world of Pugmire! Hi, Rose here, with an update from Eddy! - --, nobledogs! I have some more updates, but first a quick bit of re-organization. As a second Kickstarter crosses the horizon (more on that below), I feel it is best to divide this update Operation Kickstarter. That way, Rose can easily post this information on campaigns and everyone is notified (some of you many times!) PUGMIRE KICKSTARTER Pugmire Core Rulebook We are getting specifications from the printer, and tweaking things like the final cover. Interesting! (In a very technical and production-oriented way.) Related Stuff Dice, cards, and screens are all proofed and off to their respective printers! Last month, a supporter asked about the condition of the wooden boxes. I admit I wasn't watching that, but Rich was on the ball. He told me that they are all done and ready to be shipped once the rest of the items are printed. Fiction Anthology Jim is sending notes out to the authors now, so they should be diving into their second draft. Pan's Guide Revisions are in! Matthew overcame his development (where he combines versions, tweaks text a bit, and often makes the whole thing more seamless). Right now it's on my desk to look at, and then we move into the next stage and more extraordinary of things. Earplay We are at the home stretch! I have the second pass of audio editing on my desk to look at as well. We are also working technology to get it into your ears. The odds are that you will be listening and playing in the near future! MONARCHIES OF MAU KICKSTARTER We are getting close to the launch! I don't have an exact date, but right now it looks like later this month. We'll definitely post an update here when we're ready to launch, so all of you good dogs can be smart cats and jump right into it! Monarchies of Mau Early Access Final art is trickling in, and now we're discussing the visual direction of the book to strike the right balance of finding LIKE Pugmire without being identical to Pugmire. We definitely want these books to feel like companions, but cats have their own style. AND MORE Things are incredibly busy for Pugsteady (i.e., me) these days. On top of all the great pugmire/mau tools and my additional advice and contract work, my family and I are in the process of moving abroad! If all goes according to plan, once Kickstarter Mau is over I should be living in Dublin, Ireland. This has been in the works for several months now, so the change shouldn't affect the Pugmire train TOO much, but there's a chance things could be a bit busy for the next few months. So for all your patience and enthusiasm, all I can say is Go raibh maith agaibh! Hey, Rose. ^_^ we've received a few messages about the problem of getting a Pugmire PDF in your DriveThruRPG.com library. To clarify: if you haven't followed Coupon links that we sent you on February 8, PDF will not appear in your library. According to the link that will now take you to the final version of the book. If you have followed the previous link, and have downloaded Pugmire, then you can go to your library page to get the final version. I hope that deletes everything Hey, Rose. ^_^ Pugmire PDF is finally available to supporters from DriveThruRPG.com! Sign in and go to your library to download the updated file. Enjoy! Enjoy!
